Folklore international

Dear friends of choir music and folklore,

“Unique and exemplary” was the impression the Second German Television Station (ZDF) had of the first HARMONIE FESTIVAL in 1981. From May 18 to 21, 2023, choirs and folklore groups with thousands of participants from throughout the world will be coming together again in Lindenholzhausen, the “smallest festival town in Germany”, where the eighth HARMONIE FESTIVAL is to take place.

Lindenholzhausen is part of the city of Limburg/Lahn, which is considered one of the most attractive places in Germany with its picturesque old town and cathedral, which is over 750 years old.

The organizer of the festival, the choir HARMONIE Lindenholzhausen with its 70 members, has built up an international circle of friends while concert tours and participating in festivals in Egypt, England, Greece, the Netherlands, Latvia, Macedonia, Russia, Austria, Switzerland, Czech Republic, Hungary, USA and Wales. At international choir competitions HARMONIE has been the prize-winner several times. The greatest success to date has been at the Music Festival in Llangollen (Wales), the international Male Voice Choir Festival in Cornwall (England) as well as national prizes at the “German Choir Competition”. Choirs from many European countries, as well as from Africa, America and Asia, have given concerts in Lindenholzhausen where they were guests of the “HARMONIE” families.

The HARMONIE FESTIVAL, with its international choir and folklore events and competitions, is considered one of the most outstanding music festivals in the world. In 2017, more than 200 choirs and folklore groups representing 35 countries came to the seventh HARMONIE FESTIVAL. Patron was the Prime Minister of the Federal State of Hesse, Volker Bouffier.

Radio and television channels from several countries and a high number of newspapers and journals unanimously reported on the well-organized and high standard of competitions, folklore events, concerts and supporting events.

In 2005 the Second German Television Station (ZDF) reported: “An unforgettable experience in the smallest festival city in Germany, an unbelievably large celebration with song and dance in competitions and concerts in which one sees the coming together of folks of different nationalities in an atmosphere of unity.” This statement accurately describes the demand of this festival which exceeds the purely competitive atmosphere.

Artistic director of the HARMONIE FESTIVAL 2023 is Jürgen Faßbender.

You are sincerely invited to take part in the HARMONIE FESTIVAL 2023 and we are looking forward to seeing you in Germany and in Limburg-Lindenholzhausen.

With compliments,

HARMONIE Lindenholzhausen
